'SWINDLER' LYMAN KEPT WIFE IN DARK ON BUSINESS DEALS

They Lived Together Under Different Names and Were Wed After Child Was Born.

Mrs. Leonore E. Lyman, wife of Dr. John Grant Lyman, whose swindling campaign of a few weeks in New York and Springfield, Mass., netted him a fortune, was a witness to-day before United States Commissioner Gilchrist in the bankruptcy case of J. H. Putnam & Co., the firm of which Dr. Lyman was the head.

Mrs. Lyman is an attractive little woman with dark red hair. She was clever at repartee with Alfred B. Nathan, counsel for John L. Lytle, receiver of the bankrupt estate, and told little of her personal affairs and less of her husband's financial transactions.

She said she was born and raised in Paris, later moved to England and was married to Herbert Anthony Leckett, an officer in the British Navy, who divorced her last year, naming Dr. Lyman as co-respondent.

She first met Dr. Lyman in Paris, at a two years ago, she said, and came to this country last February and lived with Dr. Lyman at the Hotel Kew-Forest, at the home of Harry Neely.

Freeport, L. I.; at Bridgeport, Conn., and at Boston. Dr. Lyman was known under different names, such as Hammond, Roberts, Holton and Putnam. Her son was born last October at Bridgeport. A month later she and Dr. Lyman were married in Long Island.

The witness volunteered the information that she knew Ellen Peck of Spark Hill, N. Y., known as "The Queen of the Confidence Game." She said she had known her as Mrs. E. E. Knight.

"All my letters from Europe to Dr. Lyman were sent in care of Mrs. E. E. Knight, Spark Hill," she testified. Mrs. Lyman said neither Miss Peck nor her husband had ever discussed business with her. Mrs. Lyman was employed as French stenographer in the office of the Belgian Consulate here five months ago.

Receiver Little said to-day that he had located about $15,000 worth of property outside of the $15,000 which he has received in the mails addressed to J. H. Putnam and Company since he was appointed by the court.

The property located by Lytle consists of $5,000 in cash turned over to him by Louis B. Thonet, Lyman's office manager; ten shares of California Standard Oil stock, which Dr. Lyman purchased for his infant son, Grant Lyman, worth about $3,000, $1,800 which the E. W. Bliss Company of Brooklyn will turn over to him for drills purchased from Charles A. Curtis, the name Lyman used when he was operating in the hardware business.

LIFE'S LITTLE IRRITATIONS. (From the Ohio State Journal.) Some women seem to slip through the world without any more serious troubles than the fear that some woman in the next lower grade of society will be able to imitate their new clothes.

CRYSTAL GAZER FORESAW ROMANCE OF 'PSYCHO-BRIDE'

Fortune Teller Warned Psycho-Analyst's Wife Mrs. Busck Would Be 'Evil Influence.'

A crystal gazer who foresaw evil omens in the psychic attachment of Dr. Henderson B. Deady, lecturer on psycho-analysis, for Mrs. Charlotte Busck, former wife of Dr. Gunn J. Busck of Westfield, N. Y., was to-day blamed for all the trouble that Dr. Deady and Mrs. Busck have encountered when Supreme Court Justice Cohan heard Dr. Busck's petition for the custody of Richard Busck, his son, aged nine, who is living with his mother. Until recently the mother shared the same apartment with Dr. Deady in the Poinciana, No. 424 West One Hundred and Twentieth Street.

Letters written by Dr. Busck to his sister, Mrs. Amelia Deady, wife of Dr. Deady, revealed the part the crystal gazer played in the matrimonial mix-up. Mrs. Deady, the letters show, deplored the fact that Mrs. Busck had won her husband, and she wrote to Dr. Deady's present wife, who was Flora Skinner:

"She (Mrs. Busck) has taken both my brothers, and now must I give her my own husband?"

Before her marriage to Dr. Busck Mrs. Busck was the wife of the late Edward Busck. Mrs. Deady was so upset she consulted a crystal gazer, who warned her that Mrs. Busck was an "evil influence in her life," and would bring her many unhappy moments. Mrs. Deady placed implicit confidence in the prophesy, and soon saw it come true, for, in Suffolk County, within a few months after the crystal gazer's prediction, Dr. Busck divorced his wife, naming Dr. Deady as co-respondent. Dr. Deady and Mrs. Busck later sailed for Europe, where

Dr. Deady pursued his psycho-analysis studies and Mrs. Busck studied designing and interior decoration.

Dr. Busck had little faith in the crystal gazer, and advised his sister to pay no attention to her. He wrote his sister as follows:

"It is inevitable when they (Dr. Deady and Mrs. Busck) are so much together, that they should reach this point in their lives. It is inevitable they should influence each other. Your experience with the crystal gazer, who says your sister-in-law is a bad influence, should count for nothing. The crystal gazer evidently is clever, as is shown by her telling you about your sister-in-law and engendering such bitter feeling between you. Charlotte and Henderson have always been the closest friends, even before I knew her. They are sympathetic in many ways."

Dr. Busck went on to implore his sister to have more sympathy for his divorced wife, as she had done much in the way of teaching Mrs. Deady the art of designing. He expressed the opinion that Mrs. Busck and Dr. Deady would be happy together.

Mrs. Busck, the present wife of the Doctor, it was disclosed, testified against her predecessor in the Suffolk County divorce action. Mrs. Charlotte Busck declares, however, that long before the divorce was started the Doctor and his present wife were in love and lived together as man and wife.

Justice Cohan reserved decision.

ASKS BOWL AS MEMORIAL TO SON KILLED IN FIGHT

Albert Lifson's Request for Trophy Favored By U. of P. Sophomores.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—Albert Lifson of Elizabethtown, N. J., father of William Lifson, who was killed in the University of Pennsylvania Bowl fight recently, has requested the sophomore class at the university to give him this year's bowl as a memorial to his son. The boy's body was found at the end of the fight with one hand clutching the bowl, pressed into the mud by the crush of classmates and sophomores, all struggling to get their hands on the trophy.

The sophomore class to-day approved the request of Mr. Lifson, but the matter will not be decided until a meeting of the undergraduate committee to-morrow.

The bowl is generally retained by the sophomores and presented for custody to the second "honors" man in the senior year. It is a large ebony bowl inlaid with mother of pearl.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME OF COMMODORE BENEDICT

H. P. Davison, Next Door Neighbor, Sees Smoke and Phones Alarm to Headquarters.

Fire, early to-day in the servants' quarters on the top floor of the five-story brown-stone town house of Commodore E. C. Benedict at No. 19 West Fifty-first Street did $1,000 damage.

Commodore Benedict is on his yacht, cruising in Florida waters, and the house is occupied by the family of his son-in-law, Clifford B. Harmon.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The servants had gone to early mass when neighbors saw smoke coming from the upper windows. H. P. Davison of No. 12 West Fifty-first Street, one of the Morgan partners, telephoned the alarm and brought the apparatus headed by Battalion Chief Donovan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon came downstairs wrapped in furs, but were able to remain in the drawing room while Capt. Foley of Engine Company No. 65 and Capt. Wolf of Truck No. 4 superintended the work of extinguishing the fire.

WOMAN LAWYER FOR LORIMER IN CRIMINAL CASE

Ex-U. S. Senator Wins Point as His Trial on Conspiracy Charge Is Begun.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Former U. S. Senator William Lorimer won the first skirmish to-day in his trial on charges of wrecking the Lorimer-Munday chain of banks. At the opening of his case before Judge William J. Leary, Lorimer's counsel got consent to consolidate the three indictments against him. They charged two counts of embezzlement and one of conspiracy.

The court-room crowd buzzed with excitement when a young woman sat down at Lorimer's counsel table. The former Senator had engaged a woman lawyer to aid in his defense. She is Miss Agnes McHugh of Chicago.

Work of securing a jury, which probably will occupy some weeks, was begun with a special venire of one hundred in court. One of the venire, William J. Moxley, millionaire butter-line manufacturer and personal friend of Lorimer, was promptly excused.

Lorimer's counsel said to-day they consider this trial a battle for vindication. They declare it would not have been necessary for the former Senator to stand trial, as lack of evidence would have warranted a plea of dismissal. Lorimer himself took that view to-day.

"I'm not saying anything about the probabilities of my acquittal," Lorimer said as he entered court. "I'll let the verdict stand for that. I'm not going to bring any of my family into court with me, and they won't come at all unless they have to appear as witnesses."

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water, and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months—Advt.
